Timeless gestures

Craftsmanship through generations

There is a line - unbroken and alive - between our archive and the furniture we produce every day. It is the line of time, which from the past reaches the present through the archive drawings but also through the intangible, precious savoir faire of the craftsmen.

Our craftsmen's hands are the heroes of this story: every brush stroke, every carving is perpetuated in the repetition, always identical but at the same time always different, of a gesture that leaves an unmistakable mark on the material.

SALDA Artisanal Intelligence is just this: investing in people - instead of machines - betting on the uniqueness of the artisan's gesture, handed down through the generations, day after day. To obtain a product that has an intrinsic, enduring luxury.

Past archives and present gestures together make up a priceless and unrepeatable heritage, a bit like haute couture maisons. History and gestures can only be handed down, never imitated.
